Respect Due Our Flag

During the war we were ready to do violence to any person so forgetful as to remain covered while the flag passed. Even today this respect is usually paid the flag, BUT.

The flag is not paid the respect that it should. A few days ago we saw the flag coming down from one of our public buildings. It is one of the traditions and justly so, that the flag shall not touch the ground. However, when this caretaker lowered the flag he let it drop to the ground and after tying up the rope leisurely gathered it into the basement to be thrown into corner until the following morning.

Here are a few regulations that all those who have anything to do with the American flag either in placing it on a pole or in other decorations, might do well to clip out and save for reference.

These regulations for display and care of the flag upon all occasions were drafted a short time ago by an American Legation conference:

1. Flag should only be displayed from sunrise to sunset. It should always be hoisted briskly and lowered slowly and ceremoniously.

2. When carried in a procession it should be on the right; when there is a line of other flags, directly in front of the center of the line.

3. When displayed on wall another flag from crossed staff American flag should be on right and staff should be in front of staff of other flag.

4. When displayed in group, American flag should be in center and slightly higher than others.

5. When flown from staff with other flags, American flag should be at top. When flown from adjacent staffs, American flag should be hoisted first. No flag should be placed above or to the right of the American flag.

6. When flags of other nations are flown with American flag, all from separate staffs, flags should be of equal size.
(International usage forbids display of one nation's flag above that of another.)

7. When flag is displayed from staff projecting from a building, flag should go clear to head of staff unless at half mast.

8. When flag is not displayed from staff it should be displayed flat, indoors or out. When horizontal or vertical against a wall the union should be uppermost and to the observers left. When festoons, rosetts or drapings are desired, bunting should be sewed, never the flag.

9. When displayed over middle of street, the union should be to north on an east-west street and to east in a north-south street.

10. When flag is displayed on speaker's stand, it should be behind and above the speaker and never draped about the stand or speaker's table. If flown from staff it should be on speaker's right.

11. When flown at half staff, the flag is first hoisted to top of staff and then lowered to half staff. When lowered at night it should be raised first to the staff and then lowered.

12. When flag is displayed in church it should be on congregation's right, when displayed in chancel it should be on clergyman's right.

HEAVY VOTE BEATS ANNEXATION

HOUSE PASSES $325,000,000 TAX SLASH BILL

TAX IMPOSED ON NEAR BEER BY THE HOUSE

One Cent Per Gallon Tax On Near Beer Has Been Recommended

HEAVY SLASH OF SURTAX
Bill Passed Through The House
As Passed by Committee
Without Upset

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—A tax of one-tenth of a cent a gallon was imposed upon near beer by the House shortly before the entire $325,000,000 tax-slash bill was adopted and sent to the Senate for concurrence, late this afternoon.

Standing firmly for the recommendations of the Ways and Means Committee, which received the approval of President Coolidge, a coalition of Republicans and Democratic leaders was able to steer the measure through the House without a single major upset.

The nominal tax on cereal beverages was levied by request of the Treasury department, to give it power to police breweries and check what Brigadier General Lincoln C. Andrews, head of the federal prohibition unit, has described as a "tremendous flood" of high-powered beer from so-called near-beer plants. The tax was not designed to raise revenue as only about $60,000 will be raised.

The only major feature of the bill in which the ways and means committee was forced to compromise was on the life tenure provisions for members of the board of tax appeals.

Representative Finis J. Garrett of Tennessee, "Democratic floor leader," had threatened to lead a fight on this provision, and the committee offered an amendment making the maximum term fourteen years.

Beginning June 2, 1926, sixteen members will be appointed, four of them for eight years, four for ten years, four for twelve years and four for fourteen years, under the terms of the bill.

Resignations of the present members would take effect June 1, 1926, though they may all be reappointed.

There also was adopted today a provision giving automobile dealers a rebate on taxes paid to cover all cars on hand at the time the reduction of the excise tax goes into effect.

Outstanding features of the new revenue bill as it was sent to the Senate are:
Reduction in surtax rates from the 10 per cent maximum provided in existing law to 20 per cent, to apply in net incomes above $100, 000. Surtaxes will begin at 1 per cent on $10,000. This slash in surtaxes will absorb $98,000,000 of the total tax cut.

The normal rates were cut from 2 to 1 1/2 per cent on the first $4,000 of taxable income from 4 to 3 per cent on the next $4,000 or net income and from 6 to 5 per cent above $8,000. Total reduction, $45,000,000.

Official Charged With Taking Bribe

(By Universal Service)
CHICAGO, Dec. 18.—Major Percy Owen, former prohibition official of Illinois, and eight other persons were indicted by a federal grand jury today on charges of accepting a $600,000 bribe in sacramental wine deals.

Search Richmond Shoreline for Body of Woman

The nationwide search for Mrs.
Margaret Ryan of San Rafael shifted to Richmond last night, when officers searched the shoreline of the bay following a report from Captain Ray Clark of a ferry boat plying between Richmond and Point San Quentin that he had sighted a body floating in the bay near Richmond.

According to the report made Police Chief Peter O'Brien of San Rafael by Captain Clark the body was swept by the ferry boat on a swift tide. The water was so rough Clark reported that he was unable to make an effort to recover the body. He stated that the tide was moving the body toward Richmond.

Searchers in San Rafael, who at one time numbered more than one thousand had reached the conclusion officials stated that Mrs.
Ryan, who was in ill health had taken her own life.

Recovering from a serious illness, the woman vanished early one morning, while her son was preparing some grub for her in the kitchen. Since that time a nationwide search has been in progress for the aged woman.

Bill Would Make Mitchell General Of Air Service

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—The Capitol sneezed over the penalty imposed on colonel William Mitchell by the army court marshal, today.

Outspoken criticism in congress crystallized by the introduction of two resolutions in the House of Representatives demanding an end to the military tyranny of the court martial and the retraction of the drastic punishment meted out to the "flying colonel."

Representative La Guardia, of New York, himself a flyer in the world war, presented a resolution which fixed 30 days as the maximum penalty that a court marshall could impose on an officer or a soldier decorated with the congressional medal of honor or violation of the ninety-sixth article of war under which Colonel Mitchell was found guilty.

A resolution sponsored by Representative Blanton of Texas is even more sweeping in its provisions. It would make void the entire court marshal proceedings against Colonel Mitchell; restore him to rank of brigadier general and make him chief of the air service; re-imburse him to extent of $50,000 for expenses and suspend Major General Dennis Nollan, deputy chief of staff, and Major General Hugh Drum, assistant chief of staff, from the army for five years without pay.

Adhering to the plan to say nothing until President Coolidge passes on the verdict, Colonel Mitchell refused to discuss the case except:

"The next time I make a statement they will hear something." No inkling of the attitude of President Coolidge could be obtained, and it was said that he would make no announcement reaches him for signature.

MRS. YOUNG IS KILLED INSTANTLY

Woman Struck By Key System Train At San Pablo
And Fairmont

LIVED WITH HER DAUGHTER

Was Returning From Shopping Tour and Became Confused
By Approaching Train

Mrs. Marie Young, 66, living with her daughter, Mrs. Marie Gillespie, 333 Liberty street, El Cerrito, was instantly killed yesterday afternoon at 5:30 p. m., when she was struck by a southbound Key System work train at San Pablo and Fairmont avenue.

Mrs. Young had been on a shopping trip and was returning to her home when she crossed San Pablo avenue and evidently did not see the approaching train.

The impact severed both her legs and threw her body across the street. She was dead when an ambulance arrived and the body was taken to the Berg Undertaking parlors in Berkeley. The body was later removed to the Wilson and Kratzer parlors in Richmond by Aubrey Wilson, deputy coroner.

In addition to the daughter at whose home she lived, Mrs. Young is survived by another daughter, Mrs. Georgia Travis of Piedmont, and a son, John Young of 840 San Pablo avenue, El Cerrito, as well as the following grandchildren, Evelyn and Thelma Travers, John Vivian, Elvinda and Evelyn Young and Gloria Gillespie. The body is at the Wilson and Kratzer parlors, pending funeral arrangements.
A date has not as yet been set for the inquest.

BOOSTERS OF BAY BRIDGE DEFY NAVY

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 19.— Civic organizations lead by the Down Town Association hurled defiance at the attitude of the Navy Department in its opposition to the trans-bay bridge and urged immediate construction of a span as a matter of extreme "public necessity."

The War Department concluded its hearing upon the proposals to amend the present policies they took the entire matter under advisement.

San Francisco's shipping interests made strenuous opposition to the bridge at the third session yesterday.

Through Captain C. W. Cole, assistant commander of the Twelfth Naval District the navy department filed a formal protest but the wording of the communication was less harsh than at previous meetings. This was regarded as a "weakening" of the navy.

Four Army Flyers Resign Protesting Mitchell Sentence

(By Universal Service)
SAN JOSE, Dec. 18.—Three San Jose world fliers today declared they were resigning their commissions in the army air reserves as a protest against the sentence meted out to Colonel William Mitchell.

A fourth member from Coyote, 12 miles south of San Jose, also will resign it was stated tonight.

The four men were among a group of about a dozen air reserve officers in this vicinity, who a month ago sent Mitchell a telegram, commending him for what they termed a laudible fight for the best interests of the service.

According to one of the aviators, it is no use to await the possible reversal of the sentence of Colonel Mitchell as the President has shown sympathies with the War Department in its prosecution of Mitchell.

The Richmond Annex Which Voted Against Becoming a Part of This Municipality

The Richmond Annex bounded on the north by the city of Richmond on the south by the city of Albany in Alameda county, on the east by the city of El Cerrito and on the west by the Richmond Inner harbor has decided not to become a part of the city of Richmond. Instead it will remain unincorporated ter ri-tory.

132 AGAINST ANNEXATION 78 IN FAVOR

Richmond Annex Voters Decide Not To Become Part
Of Richmond

A HEAVY VOTE IS CAST

Annex Comprises Approximately 100 City Blocks South Of This City

Seventy-eight registered voters of the Richmond Annex want to become a part of the municipality of Richmond, but 132 registered voters of that same district do not feel that way about it, in fact they would rather remain an unincorporated territory.

That is the little story that was told last night when the votes were counted in the election called by the Richmond City Council upon a petition, presented by residents of that district, asking to become a part of this city.

And unincorporated it will remain until such time as it may be annexed by another city, incorporate itself as a city or decide to come into Richmond.

One hundred city blocks containing a population of approximately 800, 274 registered voters and an assessment roll of approximately half a million dollars will remain rural.

Richmond could have gained much by having it a part of the city of Richmond, the Annex could have gained much by coming into the city of Richmond, but the majority vote of the community decided different and this still remains a democratic country.

Only one polling place was used for the election being, at the Pryde garage on Key boulevard.
Officials of the election were Donald Pryde, inspector; A. P. Schwartz, clerk; Sam Wilson, judge.

Record Collection Of Taxes Made

Collections totalling $2,008.42 in first installment taxes for the year 1925-26 were reported Friday by Tax Collector Martin W. Joost.
While this is the largest amount ever collected in first installment in the history of the county it also marks the highest percentage collection when the total tax charge for the year is less than $900,000 remaining in second installment payments, the total being $2,904,013.27. Many of the collections to date include second installments as well, where the tax does not run in a considerable sum.

Santa Claus and Antlered Herd to Visit Richmond

Local Children To See Santa And His Antlered Team

The Richmond Merchants Association has a real treat in store for the children of Richmond on Tuesday afternoon. Through the efforts of Marie MacDonald, secretary of the Richmond Merchants Association and the cooperation of W. H. Hines, managing editor of the San Francisco Bulletin, Santa Claus and his antlered team will pay its official visit to Richmond on Tuesday afternoon.

Santa is quite a busy fellow and he came down from Alaska a few days ahead of time this year but it was only with great deal of persuasion that he agreed to come to Richmond. Even though his program was full he finally agreed to make the trip here and on Tuesday afternoon he will drive Dasher and Blitzen, Prancer and Dancer, Donner and Vixen up to the steps of the city hall where he will be glad to welcome all of the children of Richmond. The Merchants association is making arrangements for this grand outdoor Christmas party which will be announced later.

Santa has had quite a strenuous trip and will not be able to stay in Richmond long. They will be here long enough however so that all the children will have an opportunity to see the real reindeer. The exact hour of Santa's arrival will be announced within a few days and those children who want to see him and his team should be on hand at the appointed hour.

Visits throughout the San Francisco Bay Region have been made during the past week since Santa and his team arrived and he has forecast one of the most happy and prosperous Yuletide seasons for many years.

Children throughout this section have had an opportunity to see the antlered team and Richmond children are not to be neglected if Santa has his way and the weather permits Tuesday.

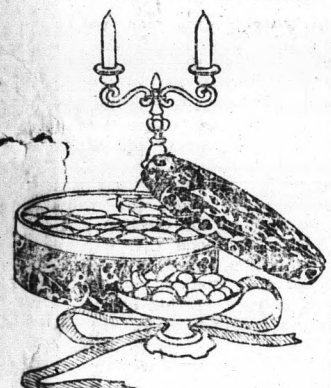

All your lives you have heard tell about them, you have seen their pictures and possibly motion pictures of them but you are going to have an opportunity to see the real thing on Tuesday afternoon when Santa Claus and his antlered team drive up to the Richmond City hall.

AS THE MODE DECREES

The black dress is all the more conspicuous in any smart gathering because of the prevalence of gay colors. It is indispensable to the smart wardrobe, however, because Paris counts it among the most exclusive of the season's modes. This frock in black crepe satin has the flare effect at the front and the semi-belt of ribbon that lends itself to such graceful handling. The rose on the shoulder is of shaded orchid velvet. Medium size requires 4 1/2 yards 36-inch satin. Victor Review Printed Pattern No. 2720. Sizes, 14 to 20 years and 34 to 42 in bust. Price, 45 cents.

Glacé Fruits

CANDIED fruits can be bought in decorative tin boxes which make delightful gifts at any time, both because of the delicious contents and the attractive and useful containers. Glacé fruits are a pleasing variation from the usual assortment of candies received during the holidays. They are sweet enough for all who like sweets and appeal to many people who do not care for the usual candy, or have already received enough of it.

Some people can't use their own advice because they give it all to others.—Dayton News.

Two Illustrious Women

The names of two women occur again and again in the Norse sagas, as the oral historical records are called.

These two women are known as Freydisa and Gudrida. They were either daughters or daughters-in-law of Eric the Red, who discovered Greenland and who was the father of Leif the Lucky, who is credited with having discovered the mainland of America.

Both Freydisa and Gudrida were members of expeditions made to America in the Tenth or Eleventh centuries, according to the sagas. Gudrida is famed as the mother of the first white child born in America. This child was named Snorri.

Gudrida died in Iceland, where she lived with her son Snorri. There are men alive today in Scandinavian countries who claim to be direct descendants of Snorri. Freydisa is renowned in song and story as the heroine of a battle between Norsemen and natives whose description suggests the Eskimos.

The natives had attacked the Norsemen in considerable numbers. The Norsemen were fleeing. Freydisa called to them:

"If I had a weapon I could fight better than any of you."

Then she seized a sword from the body of fallen Norseman and turned upon the pursuing natives, screaming, gesticulating and beating herself with the weapon. She was fury personified.

The superstitious natives, startled at the strange sight, stopped in their tracks.

This gave heart to the fleeing Norsemen, who turned and put the natives to rout.

Freydisa and Gudrida appear to have played jointly a sort of role of Queen Isabella of Spain, who made possible Columbus' first voyage.

They were the inspiration which resulted in the most pretentious expedition made to the American continent in that period. This expedition consisted of three ships and about one hundred and forty persons, among them Gudrida and Freydisa.

It is a singular fact that four hundred years later Columbus encountered far greater difficulties in getting his expedition under way than those described in the sagas concerning the Norsemen's main expedition. Apparently, with the support of Gudrida and Freydisa, this expedition was organized and equipped with little difficulty or delay. Columbus had to wait seven years to have his plans accepted.

A dispatch from Harrisburg says that Governor Pinchot has again failed to end the anthracite strike which means that the price of hard coal won't go up for a while yet.

French money is said to be swiftly flowing into Switzerland to avoid the danger of a capital levy. But as usual the real estate will not be able to get away.

Connemara was half stunned by the words. Were they spoken in such chance, or by a wild guess because her head had become unbalanced in the furious struggle? She raised searching fingers and found that the bathing-cap effect was still firmly in place. Sweetie asked no greater advantage of the gods of war than this instantaneous truth. She dragged both hands free. One she clapped over Connemara's mouth; the other she reached up to the great key of the front door and turned it. The door swung slightly open with a pathetic squeak.

As far back as Connemara could remember, it had always creaked that way. A cool draft of air laden with the odor of whiskey fanned her nostrils. She sensed some imminent danger more horrible than any that had gone before. The rough, iron fingers of a man encircled her throat and began slowly to tighten. She heard Doc's ravenous voice whi per, "Gimme something, Sweetie, to tie her up. This dame has made trouble enough for a while."

CHAPTER XIX

John V. A. Weaver

By John V. A. Weaver

Sweetie moved quickly, slipped the belt from Connemara's raincoat, and thrust it into Doc's free hand. At the same time, she held out a decidedly grimy handkerchief. Connemara's reeling brain received another jolt. Chloroform!

The rough, iron fingers of a man encircled her throat.

"Use this," Sweetie was saying rapidly. "We don't want that hell-cat of an aunt she's got to come bouncin' down here with those other dumb eggs. This is just a little private party"—and she leered malevolently at Connemara.

The girl mustered her strength for one last desperate effort. A sickening-sweet odor stole into her nostrils. The pressure upon her windpipe was suddenly freed. She opened her mouth to gasp for the breath which would be expelled in a shriek—and found herself chewing upon the filthy piece of cambric. A strangled snicker shook her. Chloroform—well, hardly. She recognized the odor now—"Quelques Fleurs"—and evidently Sweetie had earlier poured half a bottle upon it. Sweetie would. That was her idea of subtle attraction. Connemara was overcome by the weakness of relief.

Meanwhile Doc was taking advantage of her limppness to truss her hands neatly behind her back. Sweetie dragged a wicker chair up behind the helpless girl, and pushed her firmly into it. Then, with hands on hips, she stood, grimly humorous, surveying the victim.

Connemara gulped. Her throat ached from the choking, her pride was in tatters from the realization of how easily she had been put hors de combat, and the stale perfume was rapidly making her very ill. A large, round tear rolled from each lovely eye and slid quickly down each symmetrical cheek.

Sweetie, beholding the tears, suddenly exchanged her sardonic expression for one of pity. She leaned over, and with the sleeve of her own blouse gently wiped the tears away. Again Connemara was surprised by the complex character of this strange girl of another caste. Two minutes before, nails, teeth, and feet used frantically in a desperate struggle; and now—this genuine tenderness.

She listened to what Sweetie was saying: "Don't you fret, dearie. As long as you keep still, nobody's goin' to hurt you. Why can't you mind your own business? That's the only reason you keep gettin' into jams. Some day you're goin' to get into some real trouble."

Connemara, ill as she was becoming, was still capable of a flash of amused wonder. So she hadn't yet been in any real trouble! No, of course not. Such events as those of the last twenty-four hours were mere everyday occurrences in the life of persons like Sweetie and her pleasant companions.

Sweetie continued staring at her thoughtfully. "Listen, Sister. You been pretty square with me. I bet I can trust you if you make a promise. Will you keep your trap shut if I take the hankie out of it? Nod your head if you mean yes."

Connemara's beturbed head wagged violently up and down. Sweetie removed the gag.

Connemara used her first gasping breath to say, in a low tone, somewhat incoherent with a hysterical giggle, "Just for that I'm going to give you a bottle of decent perfume." Then, before Sweetie could interrupt, "You said I've been pretty square with you. What made you turn on me like this?"

"What did you butt in and try to stop me leavin' for?" the other countered sullenly.

"Well—but you were sneaking off, and I don't understand—" Connemara searched her pseudo maid's face for some explanation.

What she saw in the pursed lips and the cold eyes renewed her apprehension. For, following the girl's glance, she took in the huge form of Doc, who was staring fixedly in the direction of the heavy shrubbery bordering the drive. There was everything in that alert tension, that gorillalike hunching of the shoulders, to bring the swift thought to her mind: "That 'real trouble' Sweetie was speaking about—this is it, this is it!"

Connemara turned so that she too could focus her gaze upon the dark, overgrown thicket. There—a ghostly figure. No—two! Crouching in the shadows, deathly still.

At a step behind her she jumped and stifled a scream. Twisting around, she beheld the unbeautiful visage of the Swede, who, paying scant attention to her was grinning insolently at Sweetie. What could the return of this ham actor in the all-star cast forebode? She decided to attempt facetiousness.

"Dear, dear," she said, "how jolly I was afraid I'd never have the pleasure of seeing your funny old face again."

The Swede vouchsafed her hardly a glance. "Shut your face," he growled, without, however, any malice in his voice. "We were surveying the open front door as if a new plan were just forming in his mind."

"It's the fifty thousand, of course," drawled Connemara. "What a nice game we're having. Button, button, who's got the money? Sweetie found some way to send word to you, didn't she? I ought to have thought of that."

The Swede allowed himself another baleful grin. "You should get all worked up about that fifty grand. That's all safe and sound. But, gee—this is some swell dump, I'll tell the cock-eyed doctor. I think we ought to have a look inside."

He took a step toward the open door. In the same second Sweetie was upon him, clutching his wrist, spinning him around facing her. "You big boob!" she flung at him. "If brains was hooch, what you got is Bevo!"

The Swede jerked his arm angrily. "What's eatin' you? I just thought we might go in and look around—you never can tell."

Sweetie strengthened her hold upon his arm. "And I used to think 'sap' meant somethin' in a tree," came her scornful insistence. "We got the dough, ain't we? What more do we want? That house is full of people. We got to make our get-away quick."

"Well," began the Swede, "maybe you're right, but I just thought

"The next time you start to think—don't," Sweetie finished scathingly. "Come on, Doc. Let's pull our freight. Poochie ain't in on this, I take it. He's a great one for dodgin' the rough stuff. A'writ, we'll be on our way."

Lindemann met with a severe accident the first of the week and will be unable to attend the service. Dr. Dille's subject in the morning will be "Palms and Willows" and in the evening it will be "A Visit to Bethlehem." Christmas carols will also be sung in the evening services.

Bebe Daniels Gets The Hook In Film At The Richmond

Tom Mix in the thrilling story of western ranch life "The Foreman of Bar Z" will close its two day engagement at the Richmond theatre tonight.

They gave Bebe Daniels "the hook" during the filming of her new picture, "The Crowded Hour" to be shown at the Richmond theatre tomorrow.

In the picture Bebe plays a telephone operator in a big New York hotel. She has her mind set on a career as an actress and with T. Roy Barnes, her partner, decides to "show 'em something" at an amateur night on the Bowery. Their efforts are greeted with a heartless "razing" from out front and the hook.

This is but one of many big laugh scenes in the picture, which, besides Barnes, includes Kenneth Harlan, Helen Lee Worthing, Alice Chapin and other in the cast.

E. Mason Hopper directed the picture, Bebe's third starring production for Paramount.

Employees Of Eagle Creamery Are Vaccinated

Due to the threatened epidemic of smallpox that is going about the city, John B. Silveria, proprietor of the Eagle Creamery, has had all of his employees vaccinated against the disease. The action was taken, according to Dr. C. R. Blake, commissioner of health, in order to keep the milk supply in the city free from any small-pox germs.

Dr. Blake stated yesterday that there are now seven cases of smallpox under quarantine in Richmond. Several weeks ago the number was down to two but it has gradually worked up again until it is at seven. It is believed, however, that the spread is now checked as no cases have been reported to the health department during the past three days, Dr. Blake declared.

Brotherhood To Hold Father And Son Banquet Tue.

The meeting of the Brotherhood of the First Christian church on next Tuesday night will be in the form of a Father and Son banquet. The church was unable to hold its regular Father and Son banquet with the other churches, on account of the absence of the preacher at that time. Fathers are to bring a gift for a son, which will not be given to his own son. Any man present without a son will be fined. A fine program has been arranged, and after the banquet the annual election of officers will be held. The dinner will start promptly at 6:15.

Christmas Party Enjoyed Here By Rotary Club

Talks on Christmas and Yuletide singing and music featured the Christmas program of the Richmond Lions club yesterday. The club Mendelsohn trio, composed of Mesdames Griffin, Brothers and Stewart, rendered vocal numbers, while instrumental music was given by F. C. Bibbins, S. M. Darrell, J. Richards and M. A. Russell.

Harry Marcus talked on the season in Rumania, his native land, and said that although he was a small boy when he left the country, he often heard his parents talk of the manner in which it is observed. Christmas is observed in Germany, according to R. Ludewig, who said that while there is gift giving the day is largely devoted to religious ceremonies.

Some people seem to take more interest in our affairs than we ourselves.

Plans Completed For Christmas Party for Vets

At a meeting of the joint committee of the Eastbay cities at Oakland Thursday night final plans were completed for the Christmas party to be given for sick war veterans at Livermore hospital. Dr. John Slavich of Oakland presided over the meeting.

It was decided that the party would be held December 23, and would commence at 7:30 o'clock. It had been announced here that the party was planned for the afternoon of next Wednesday.

A big Christmas tree will be in the recreation hall and hanging from the tree will be gifts for the veterans. For the sick veterans who are unable to leave their beds, there will be small Christmas trees in each ward and the entertainers will visit each ward and present their program.

Twenty of the patients have requested that instead of gifts for themselves, the committee send gifts to their families as they are in poor circumstances. These gifts packages have already been prepared and shipped to the families.

Contributions by different fraternal and patriotic organizations has swelled the funds. About $2600 will be spent to make the party a success.

Ruel S. Crose is representing Richmond on the committee.

Those who have contributed the funds in Richmond are: the Elks, War Veterans, Memorial Hall Association, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, Spanish War Veterans, American Legion Auxiliary and War Mothers.

CLOTHIERS ARE DEFEATED HERE BY ST. MARY'S

The McRacken quintet lost a snappy game to the St. Mary's 45's last night at the Junior high gym. The final score was 25-12.

Playing on the Saints' cases were three local boys: Boyd Hecker, Louis Schrader and Billy Yore.

Dazur did the star work for the Saints, totaling up 15 points; Bonham, center for the locals made five points.

The game was a close one until the second half and here the Oaklanders started working. Although the locals played a good brand of basketball, they were unable in most cases to pierce the defense of their opponents. Good pass work was featured by both teams.

The line ups were: St. Mary's—Dzar, f. 15; Stride, f. 4; Swaggles, c. 1; Hecker, g. 5; Yore, g. 0; substitute, Schrader, g. 0.

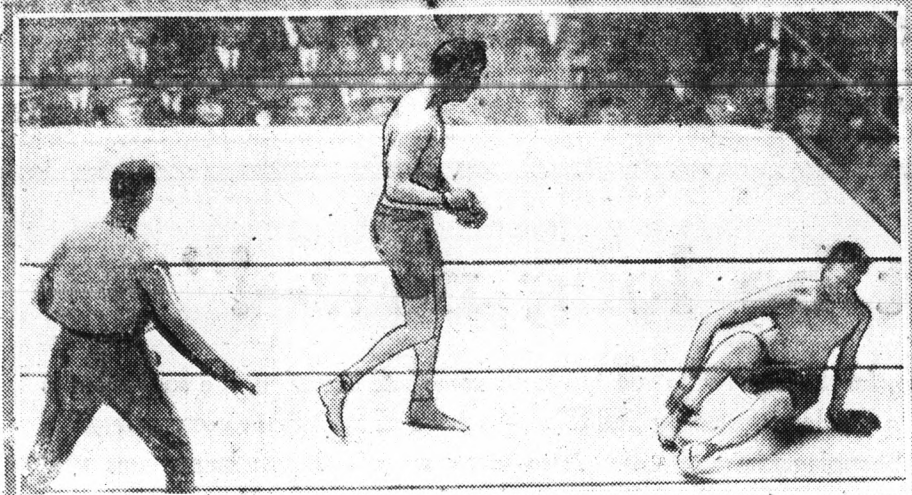

McRackens—Gillian, f. 4; Huzefka, f. 0; Bonham, c. 5; Theiste, g. 0; Paasch, g. 0; substitute, McLaughlin, 0; O'Brien, 1.

CHRISTMAS PARTY AT 1ST PRESBYTERIAN

The Junior and Intermediate division of the First Presbyterian Sunday school held their Christmas entertainment last evening at the church. The main feature of the evening was a missionary play put on by the Intermediate.

The Junior Choir of the church rendered several numbers. Following the program, Santa Clause appeared and distributed candy to the children.

Jack Delaney Down For Short Count In Bout In Which Berlenbach Retained Light - Heavyweight Title

Paul Berlenbach appointed Jack Delaney, his French-Canadian challenger, to a hard-fought 15-round battle in Tex Rickard's new Madison Square Garden in New York. Delaney had Berlenbach in a bad way in the fourth round, but the light-heavyweight champion weathered the storm and coming strong in the later rounds, won the judges' decision. The above photograph shows Delaney on the floor, but he was up almost immediately. In the twelfth round Berlenbach sent Jack down cleanly with a left hook.

MADIGAN GETS AID
Three things are open to Red Strader when he graduates from St. Mary's next spring. He may go to West Point. He may join the Seattle Indians for a tryout as catcher. He may become assistant coach to Skip Madigan at St. Mary's. According to rumors that have been going about for the past few days it looks as if Madigan will have a new assistant soon.

ROCKNE TO EUROPE

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Dec. 18.—Statements are expected any moment now from Knute Rockne regarding his controversy over coaching at Columbia. He is expected to clear himself before leaving for Europe on January 6. Rockne has completed plans for taking the journey across the Atlantic and has booked passage for January 6. He will be gone for an indefinite time.

MUST QUIT PROS.

Coach Babe Hollingberry of the Olympic club was notified yesterday by Frank J. Foran, secretary of the club, that he must sever his connection as coach of the Western football team that will play Red Grange and the Chicago Bears at San Francisco on January 24 or he will lose his membership and job as athletic commissioner at the San Francisco club.

DRILLERS LOOK GOOD

As things look from the surface, Bakersfield will beat Salinas in the semifinals for the State Inter-scholastic grid championship in San Francisco this afternoon. This is the consensus of opinion among the followers of the two school teams. The Drillers are large, powerful, fast and heady. Salinas is the same, but not to such a great degree as Bakersfield.

HAGAN-JONES MEET

KID KAPLAN IS STILL CHAMP

By DAMON RUNYON
(By Universal Service)
NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—Louis Kaplan, of Meridian, Conn., called "Kid", got the decision over Babe Herman of California at the end of 15 tough, tugging rounds at the New Madison Square Garden tonight.

The fight was a grueling one throughout. Four knockdowns were scored, two by either fighter. In the first round, Alexander knocked Lester down twice with rights to the chin but Lester arose without a count each time and before the round was over had floored the negro for a nine count.

Lester scored another nine count knockdown in the fourth round but the plucky negro managed to weather the storm. Lester's face was badly cut and he bled profusely throughout the fight. Lester's superior weight and strength wore the negro down and in the final round he was hanging on and out on his feet.

Many a man has no peace of mind because his wife is constantly giving him a piece of hers.

The people who complain that they never have a show are generally waiting for free passes.

Boxing Permits To Be Lessened

(By Universal Service)
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 18.—The number of boxing permits issued to clubs in Los Angeles and San Francisco during the next year will be based on the average attendance of shows for 1925, according to announcement made today by the chairman of the state athletic commission.

The ruling will not interest the Hollywood American Legion stadium here, due to the high attendance and the fact that it is a charitable organization. The chairman declared that attendance figures would be checked carefully.
